CHOLERA IN JONESBORO.

The Dreaded Scourge at Work-Its Malignant Character-Facty about

From the Knoxville Press and Herald, July 31. From various sources we obtain the following items of the epidemic in Jonesboro: A telegram was received by Capt. Jaques from Dr. Sevier, at 8 o'clock A. M., stating that there had been four deaths in the previous fourteen hours. Dr. Sevier said that he was nearly exhausted and not well, and seked Capt. Jaques to have a Doctor sent from here. Dr. A. J. Campbell went up on the noon train. Capt. Jaques also received a letter from Dr. Sevier by the noon train, asking him to obtain the services of certain physicians of this city. The Captain sent the letter to the proper authorities, with the information that he would pass any one who would go on this mission.

The Capiain also telegraphed orders to Greeneville, to pass several nurses who offered to go from that place to Jonesboro, to wait on the sick.

As near as we can ascertain, not a person that has been attacked by the disease in Jonesboro, has recovered. All die. Dr. Sevier is stated to have said that he saw the cholera in its worst form in Cincinnati in 1866, and saw it in Greeneville during its prevalence there, this mouth, but on neither occasions did it carry off its victims with the celerity and rapidity of the present epidemic, and he characterizes it as being of a "most malignant type." A citizen of Jonesboro telegraphed to Capt. Jaques to send them five hundred bushels of lime by express. This would be two car loads! A later dispatch, however, informed the Captain that the party applying for the lime had left on the train and there was no one there to distribute it. Very few people are left in Jonesboio Some came to this city by the noon train yesterday and others last night. The Rev. Mr. Morrison, of that place, passed down the road yesterday on the noon train.

An undertaker of this city received an order by telegram yesterday morning to ship six coffins to Jonesboro, which he did by the noon train.

A gentleman who came down from Jonesboro at noon yesterday, informs us that Dr. Bovel, the postmaster, was taken sick Tuesday night. His family had left for the country and he sent after them to come and care for him.

The physicians of the place held a consultation on Tuesday and advised the citizens who remained to leave at once, and lessen the chances of sickness. They also concluded to take an empty house, known as the "Jurson" dwelling, make a hospital of it, and place all the sick in it, so that they can give them proper attention.

At the citizens' meeting, a vote of thanks was passed to the Town Marshal, Howron, for the zeal and industry be has displayed in the care of the sick. The following dispatch gives the latest

To Make Good Yeast.

Then add two tablespoons of sugar and one of salt. Take one quart of water and a handful of hops. Boll a few minutes, strain and stir into potatoes. Set on the stove and stir until thick. When cool add one cup or yeast.

Light Cornbread. Take one-half gallon water and when it comes to a boil add meal enough to make as thich as mush. Then add enough cold water to make it cold enough for the hand. Then thicken with meal and knead well, adding salt. Let it stand ten hours in a warm place. Shortening may or may not be added, just before baking. Bake in a deep pan in a slow oven.

Jellies. In making jellies of apricots, quinces, peaches, apples or plums, peel, remove the stones or cores, cut in pieces, cover with water, and boil gently till well cooked: then strain the juice gently through a jelly bag and add a half pint of sugar to a pint of juice. For berries, a pound of sugar to a pint of juice; boil till it ropes from the spoon, or from fifteen to twenty minutes.

In making raspberry jelly use one-third cur-rants and two-thirds raspberries. Baked Potatoes.

Potatoes are more nutritious baked than they are cooked in any other manner, and they relish better with those who have not been accustomed to eat them without seasoning. Wash them clean, but do not soak them. Bake them as quickly as possible, without burning in the least. As soon as they are done, press each potato in a cloth so as to crack the skin and allow the steam to escape. If this is omitted, the best poare sick, Drs. ANOTHER SAVAGE ACT FIFTY DOLLARS REWARD.

SOME TIME AGO SOME SCOUNDRELS cut the cloth on my Billiard Tables, in the Maxwell House, several different times. At last I gave notice in the city papers, on the 30th day of April, that any person found inside the enof April, that any person found inside the en-closure after the rooms were closed, or on Sun-days, would be held liable for any damages that would happen to the tables or furniture. At the same time I put up a sign at the entrance, warn-ing any person that entered, after the place was closed, that they would be held liable for d'mages. On the 20th inst. the cioth was again cut on three tables, and I hereby offer a reward of Fifty Dollars for information that will lead to the conviction of the dastardly repretrators of this outrage. I also offer a reward of Fifty Dollars for the conviction of any one committing damages on the tables or furniture in future.
